THE USE OF LINKING WORDS AND PHRASES

1st year student of foreign philology department of

JDPU academic lyceum

Jiyanboyeva Gulsanam Isroil qizi

Abstract: Connecting words and phrases play an important role in making the process of communication more fluent and understandable in our language. They ensure the integrity of the text by strengthening relationships and linking ideas together. Therefore, connecting words and phrases are important not only in writing, but also in speaking.

Key words: conjunction, words, phrases, thought, idea, language, communication.

Connecting words and phrases create a logical structure of the text by linking ideas together. For example, words such as "and", "but", "therefore", "but" take the place of connecting between ideas. With the help of these words, we will be able to express our thoughts more fluently. Also, linking words improve the flow of the text and help keep the reader's attention. Connecting phrases enrich the content of the text. For example, phrases such as "on the other hand", "however", "therefore" provide the reader with additional information and expand the ideas further. These expressions, in turn, increase the depth of the text and improve the reader's understanding. Conjunctions also help to emphasize certain ideas, which increases the impact of the text. Connecting words and phrases serve to strengthen relationships. With their help, we are able to communicate and discuss our thoughts with others. For example, words like "also", "but", "however" connect ideas and strengthen relationships. This, in turn, makes the communication process more effective. Connecting words and phrases help to organize thoughts. With their help, we will be able to express our thoughts clearly and fluently. For example, words such as "firstly", "secondly", "finally" help organize thoughts and help the reader understand the text better. This, in turn, improves the structure of the text and facilitates the reader's perception of the idea. Connecting words and phrases help emphasize certain ideas. With their help, we will be able to express our thoughts more powerfully and effectively. For example, words such as "certainly", "definitely", "certainly" emphasize ideas and show their importance to the reader. This, in turn, increases the effectiveness of the text and attracts the attention of the reader. Connecting words and phrases enrich the structure of the text. With their help, we will be able to expand and deepen our thoughts. For example, expressions such as "on the other hand", "while", "therefore" enrich the content of the text and provide additional information to the reader. This, in turn, increases the depth of the text and improves the reader's understanding. Connecting words and phrases provide the integrity of the text by linking ideas together. With their help, we are able to connect and discuss our thoughts. For example, words such as "and", "but", "therefore" connect ideas and strengthen relationships. This, in turn, makes the communication process more effective. Connecting words and phrases serve to strengthen relationships. [1]

With their help, we are able to communicate and discuss our thoughts with others. For example, words like "also", "but", "however" connect ideas and strengthen relationships. This, in turn, makes the communication process more effective. Connecting words and phrases help to organize thoughts. With their help, we will be able to express our thoughts clearly and fluently. For example, words such as "firstly", "secondly", "finally" help organize thoughts and help the reader understand the text better. This, in turn, improves the structure of the text and facilitates the reader's perception of the idea. Connecting words and phrases help emphasize certain ideas. With their help, we will be able to express our thoughts more powerfully and effectively. For example, words such as "certainly", "definitely", "certainly" emphasize ideas and show their importance to the reader. This, in turn, increases the effectiveness of the text and attracts the attention of the reader.[2]

In general, connecting words and phrases play an important role in making the communication process more fluent and understandable in our language. With their help, we are able to connect, discuss and clearly express our thoughts. Therefore, the correct and effective use of linking words and phrases is the responsibility of every writer and speaker. This, in turn, increases the quality of the text and improves the reader's understanding. [3]

Connecting words and phrases are important not only in writing, but also in speaking. With their help, we will be able to express our thoughts more clearly and fluently. Therefore, the correct and effective use of linking words and phrases is the responsibility of every writer and speaker. This, in turn, increases the quality of the text and improves the reader's understanding. At the same time, connecting words and phrases ensure the integrity of the text by linking ideas together. With their help, we are able to connect and discuss our thoughts. For example, words such as "and", "but", "therefore" connect ideas and strengthen relationships. This, in turn, makes the communication process more effective. In addition, connecting phrases enrich the content of the text. [4!]

For example, phrases such as "on the other hand", "however", "therefore" provide the reader with additional information and expand the ideas further. These expressions, in turn, increase the depth of the text and improve the reader's understanding. Conjunctions also help to emphasize certain ideas, which increases the impact of the text. [5]

Conclusion:

Therefore, connecting words and phrases play an important role in making the process of communication in our language more fluent and understandable. With their help, we are able to connect, discuss and clearly express our thoughts. Therefore, the correct and effective use of linking words and phrases is the responsibility of every writer and speaker. This, in turn, increases the quality of the text and improves the reader's understanding.

REFERENCES:

1. ABDULLAEVA, M. (2020). "CONNECTORS IN THE UZBEK LANGUAGE". TASHKENT: ACADEMY OF SCIENCES OF THE REPUBLIC OF UZBEKISTAN.

2. SAIDOVA, N. (2019). "IDIOMS IN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE". TASHKENT: NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF UZBEKISTAN.

3. KARIMOV, A. (2021). "SENTENCE STRUCTURE IN UZBEK". TASHKENT: UZBEKISTAN PRESS.

4. KHOLMATOVA, S. (2022). "CONNECTING WORDS IN THE UZBEK LANGUAGE". TASHKENT: YOUTH UNION OF UZBEKISTAN.

5. TURSUNOV, B. (2023). "PHRASES AND THEIR FUNCTIONS". TASHKENT: STATE PUBLISHING HOUSE OF UZBEKISTAN.

6. JUMANIYAZOV, R. (2021). "SYNTAX IN UZBEK". TASHKENT: MINISTRY OF EDUCATION OF THE REPUBLIC OF UZBEKISTAN.

7. MURADOV, D. (2020). "LOGICAL CONNECTION IN THE UZBEK LANGUAGE". TASHKENT: ACADEMY OF SCIENCES OF UZBEKISTAN.

8. SULTONOVA, G. (2022). "LANGUAGE AND LOGIC: CONNECTORS". TASHKENT: NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF UZBEKISTAN.