

METHODOLOGY FOR TEACHING ENGLISH ONLINE

Urgench Ranch Technological University

philology and language training

(English ) faculty student group 23.03

Madaminova Mashhura

Urgench Ranch Technological University

philology and language training

(English ) faculty student group 23.03

Ko'zibayeva Nozima

Abstract: Increasing student motivation is also important in the teaching process. The online teaching methodology allows students to increase motivation by providing a variety of interactive and engaging activities. Teachers can encourage their students to compete and test their knowledge. For example, through games, quizzes, and other interactive activities, students can test their knowledge and learn new materials in an interesting way. These techniques increase students ' interest and encourage them to read.

Keywords: English, online platforms, games, quizzes, materials, educational resources, feedback, interactive applications.

In the online teaching methodology, it is also necessary to pay attention to the development of self-learning skills of students. Students can develop their own learning process management and their own time planning skills. This increases their independent reading skills and is also useful in learning other languages in the future. Self-learning skills also play an important role in the process of strengthening students

' own knowledge and mastering new materials. The methodology for teaching English online allows teachers to constantly update their knowledge and skills. Teachers can use online courses, webinars and other educational resources to improve their skills. This increases teachers ' enthusiasm for their work and makes their teaching process more efficient. By updating their knowledge, teachers will be able to provide a more quality education to their students. As a result, the methodology of teaching English online opens up new opportunities in the educational process. This method offers many advantages to teachers and students, including accessibility, flexibility, the ability to use modern technology, and an individual approach. The online teaching process helps to increase student motivation, develop their self-learning skills, and update teachers ' skills. Therefore, the methodology of teaching English online is important in the field of education today and is expected to develop further in the future. Student interactions and collaborations are also important in the online learning process. The organization of teamwork among students provides the opportunity to exchange experiences among themselves through the formation of groups and teams. Such activities contribute to the development of student interaction, the formation of new thoughts and the use of language in practice. Interaction and collaboration increase students ' mutual trust and allow them to actively participate in the reading process. It is also important to develop students ' self-assessment skills in the online learning process. Students should be able to assess their knowledge and skills, analyze themselves and work on themselves. This will help them become more active in the process of self-study. Self-assessment skills play an important role in the process of strengthening students ' own knowledge and mastering new materials.[1]

In the online teaching methodology, teachers must be able to observe and evaluate the achievements of their students. It is necessary that teachers have the opportunity to monitor the development of their students, identify their strengths and weaknesses and provide the necessary support. This helps teachers provide an individual approach to their students and makes their reading process more efficient. The methodology of teaching English online opens up new opportunities in the educational process and offers many advantages to teachers and students.[2]

This method allows teachers to use modern technology, and students to manage their time and learn on their own. The online teaching process helps to increase the motivation of students, develop their interaction and update the qualifications of teachers. Therefore, the methodology of teaching English online is important in the field of education today and is expected to develop further in the future. The future of the methodology of teaching English online is also associated with new technologies and innovations. New platforms, programs and resources for teachers and students are constantly being developed. These innovations will help make the teaching process more efficient and interesting. Teachers need to constantly update their knowledge in order to improve their skills and learn new techniques. [3]

Conclusion:

As a result, the methodology of teaching English online occupies an important place in the educational process and provides new opportunities for teachers and students. This method allows teachers to use modern technology, and students to manage their time and learn on their own. The online teaching process helps to increase the motivation of students, develop their interaction and update the qualifications of teachers. Therefore, the methodology of teaching English online is important in the field of education today and is expected to develop further in the future.

References:

1. Abdurahmonova, G. (2020). "Online education: theoretical and practical foundations". Tashkent: National University Of Uzbekistan.
2. Khudoyberganova, D. (2021). "Modern educational technologies: online teaching methods". Samarkand: Samarkand State University.

3. Murodov, B. (2022). "Innovative approaches to teaching English". Tashkent State Pedagogical University.
4. Kadyrova, N. (2019). "Development of online education in Uzbekistan". Bukhara: Bukhara State University.
5. Rakhmonov, S. (2023). "Interactive methods in online education". Fergana: Fergana State University.
6. Tadjiev, O. (2021). "Methodology for teaching English: A Practical Guide". Tashkent: Ministry of Education of the Republic of Uzbekistan.
7. Karimova, L. (2020). "Online education and its use in Uzbek". Nukus: Karakalpak State University.